INTRODUCTION

The Brain Drain out of Africa is nothing compared to the loss of intellectual capital when a country retires its Senior Public Servants without a plan to access the huge experience and contacts they had garnered over the years. By taking Pre-Retirement Training as seriously as Career Management during Public Service, the Nation is guaranteed a steady stream of experienced and mature men and women to help mentor the next generation of leaders.

Research has shown that lack of effective Pre-Retirement Training, especially in the areas of Financial Planning, Investment Management, Professional Continuity, Mental Capacity Development, and Peer Support Groups takes a huge toll on the health and well-being of these Public Servants who gave their best years to serving the nation. This might explain the widening disparity in wellness metrics between the retired Public and Private Sector.

This 5-Day Workshop is totally hands-on and gives about-to- retire Directors in both the Public and Private Sectors the tools to start living their best lives after Service.
